STRYCHNINE PED TO A PRIZE-WIN

Frank Mayer's Pamily in Mourning for Him-He Used to Take the Children to School and Go Marketing - Two Other Dogs of the Same Kennels Made Sick, Prince, a valuable rough-coated St. Bernard, winner of six prizes at the Westminster Kennel Club bench shows in Madison Square Garden, died yesterday from eating a piece of polsoned meat given by some unknown person. Two other St. Bernards in the same kennels, Madfi and Gladie, were also poisoned, but they stand a chance of recovery. Franz Mayer, who owns the dogs, has been keeping them in a ken-nel on the roof of the house adjoining his home. He owns both properties 536 and 538 East Eighty-seventh street, and fixed upon the roof plan as the best way to keep the dogs during the hot weather. He suspects that the gang which has been poisoning blooded dogs in the annexed district may have begun operations in the city: otherwise he is at a loss for a motive, for he has

The trie of St. Bernards were taken from the roof garden early every morning for a long exercising walk. It is supposed by Mr. Mayer that the poisoned meat was given to the dogs on one of these excursions. As soon as he found that the dogs were ailing he called in Prof. Glimwich, a veterinarian, who said the dogs were suffering from poison. Mr. Mayer then notified the police at the East Eighty-eighth street station. After Prince's death an examination indicated that the poison used was strych-

There is general grief among the neighbors especially the children, for the big St. Bernard was both a pet and a hero among the residents of East Eighty-seventh street. One of his duties was to take the three little daughters of the Mayer household to the kindergarten every morning. The dog was harnessed to a wagon, and drew the children from the house to the school. When his freight was deposited Prince trotted back to the house nd waited patiently until the harness was taken off. He knew when it was time to go after the children, and made a commotion in the kennel until Mr. Mayer harnessed him again to the little carriage and sent him off to the school. No one went along to guide him. When the children came out of the kindergarten they found Prince waiting, and he brought them home in style. The kindergarten is four blocks from the house.

According to Mr. Mayer the dog knew as much as a human being. Whenever anything was needed from the baker, but her, or grocer, Mrs. Mayer would hang a basket, containing the written order, in Prince's mouth, and he would go straight to the store she sent him to, never confusing the orders. He would wait at the dealer's for the order and always bring the goods back safely. Another of Prince's accomplishments was known to every member of the East Side Howling Club, which has met for several seasons at Pritce's, at Eighty-fourth street and Avenue A. Mr. Mayer is a member and on bowling nights he used to send Prince on ahead carrying a bag containing his favorite ball, which weighted eighteen pounds. Prince guarded the bag until Mr. Mayer arrived, and was then sent home, with orders to return at 10 o'clock. The bowling sessions always ended at that hour and prompt to the minute Prince would come barking into the place.

Prince had records as a life saver, having on several occasions jumped to the rescue children who had failed into the East liver-the foot of East Eighty-ninth street, a favori playground. The last occasion was on April 2 when he saved a little girl named Elizabe Katter,

RENTOF THE NEW FERRY TO JERSE

Upset Price Will Be $22,500 and Five P Cent, of the New York End Receipts, The Sinking Fund Commissioners met yeste

day to fix an upset price for the franchise of t proposed West Twenty-third Street Ferry. The matter wasn't finally settled, for at 3 o'clo the Mayor, who had been tidgeting around in his chair for twenty minutes, announced that he had to catch a boat, and that the other Comsioners could talk as long as they pleased, but that he would have to go. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which will in all probability secure the franchise, was represented by John D. Crimmins. The upset price proposed by the Mayor was $20,000 a year, and 5 per cent, of the gross receipts, the franthise to run ten years, and the successful bidser to deposit with the Comptroller $7,500, to her to deposit with the comprehener $5.300, its be applied to the first year's rent, and to be forfeited if the bidder does not accept the franchise after successfully bidding for it, the bidder also to give bonds to the amount of $50,000, and to erect and keep in repair at his own expense the necessary building, bridges, racks, &c. Mr. Crimmus opposed so large a rent in addition to the 5 per cent, clause, saying that the ferry was an accommodation for the public, and that the Pennsylvania Company saying that the ferry was an accommodation for the public, and that the Pennsylvania Company didn't expect it to pay more than its running ex-didn't expect it to pay more than its running expenses for some time.

Alderman Olcott said that if the value of the property was considered, and the money that had been expended on it by the city, $25,000 a year would represent but 5 per cent. Interest on the money, and he thought that was a fair price, besides the 5 per cent. It was finally compromised at $22,500 a year, besides 5 per cent. If the receipts at the New York side.

It was suggested at this time that, as the great majority of those who used the ferry would be commuters, and commutation tickets are sold only on the Jersey side, the revenue from the 5 per cent. of the gross receipts would be very small unless some means was found to make the company count every passenger that embarked on the New York side and pay accordingly. After some discussion this matter was laid over until 1:30 this afternoon.

NEWARK'S BUILDING INSPECTOR. He Resigns Because Mayor Lebkuecher Found Fault with Him.

Isaac W. Townsend, Inspector of Buildings in Newark, resigned yesterday after a heated with Mayor Lobkuccher, He and the Mayor are both Republicans, but the Mayor and a number of Republican Aldermen have for some time been dissatisfied with Townsend's administration of his office, and he has been repeatedly accused of being too lax in the enforcement of the ordinances relating to the erection of frame buildings within the "fire limits," and in permitting architects and contractors to violate other important regulations intended to secure the construction of safe buildings.

Townsend is a veteran of the war and of the Newark Fire Department. He was injured some years ago by a hook and ladder truck, and was rendered unfit for active duty. Then he was made Inspector of Buildings and furnished with an office and a horse and buggy. In 1892 the Democrats wanted his place for Daniel Boughner, and turned him out, but the courts reinstated him under the Veteran act.

the courts reinstated him under the Veteran act.

Recently a great deal of fault has been found with Townsend, and two masons were appointed special inspectors. They stopned the construction of a number of buildings which they thought were being unsafely built, and of several which did not conform to the ordinances, because the ordinances were antiquated and did not contemplate the crection of modorn steel frame buildings with light brick walls.

Townsend was aggrieved by the appointment of men to help him, although he had complained that he had too much to do. He said resterday that he had contemplated resigning for several weeks. His resolution was confirmed by some strictures indulged in by the Mayor in regard to a transaction entirely outside of the inspection of buildings.

The report of Commissioners Eugene S. Ives, Joseph Climan, and Richard Deeves, who were appointed to decide upon the area assessable for taxation and the amount necessary to be levied for the purpose of acquiring St. John's Cemetery for a public park, was confirmed by Justice Stover in the Supreme Court yesterday. The swart to Trinity corporation is $520,000, and the expense, including $2,500 to each Commissioner, are $13,745, a total of $555,765. Hart of this, or $296,882,50, is assessed on property owners. The area assessed for taxation is that portion of the Ninth ward bounded by West Eleventh street, Spring street, Marchallane, Sixth avenue, and Greenwich avenue.

HAPPY, HAPPY, HAPPY PAIR. The Suttons Take Their Bomestic Pleas

autries Before the Courts, Mrs. Isabella Sutton of 463 West Fifty-seventh street has brought a suit in the Superior Court for a limited divorce from her husband. Eugene Devoe Sutton, upon the ground of cruelty. Sutton has brought a counter action for an absolute divorce, charging that his wife has been guilty of improper conduct with Charles G. Parker of 530 Broadway. Mrs. Sutton says that she is nearly destitute, and that her husband's father, who died re-cently, was a member of the firm of Passavant & Co. and left an estate of $100,000, in which her husband has a one-fifth interest. She says that Sutton earned a yearly salary of $2,400, but that since his father's death he has been doing nothing.

Mrs. Sutton says that while she was living with her nusband in Eighty-third street in 1883, he assaulted her repeatedly, and slapped her face and said that he did not love her and wished he was rid of her. She says that when there was company at their house her husband would refuse to play cards if she was allowed to take part in the card game, and that he cruelly referred to her as "that thing." She says that he repeatedly hit her in the face with his clenched fists, but that she continued to live with him until last January.

Sutton denies his wife's charges of cruelty but admits that he refused to play cards with her because she stood behind his chair and annoyed him. He admits that he did say that he was tired of her, but only when she annoyed him by her false charges. He says that she has him by her false charges. He says that she has an ungovernable temper. On one occasion she said "she wished he was dead and would joyfully dance on his corpse." She also called him a "dirty cur" and a "half-demented fool" and other names. She threatened to strangle him. Once she said to him, "I have a good face and dine figure and am about to goon the town." At the same time, he says, she struck him in the face and exclaimed, "You are only half baked." Since September, 1894, Sutton says, his wife has been infatuated with Charles G. Parker of 500 Broadway, and is "under Parker's malign influence and is madly in love with him." Sutton also charges that his wife has provided Parker with meals and other refreshments.

Mrs. Sutton has filed a reply denying all these charges and saying that she is on the best of terms with Parker's wife and family. Upon application of Howe & Hummel Judge Gildersleeve yesterday granted Mrs. Sutton $100 counsel fees and $10 a week allmony pending trial of the suit. There are two children.

STEAM COMPANY MUST REFORM. Need Not Move from Fifty-eighth Street, but Must Suppress Its Smoke,

Justice O'Brien signed, in the Supreme Court yesterday, an order restraining the New York Steam Company from causing a nuisance by permitting the escape of cinders, soot, and coal and ash dust from its factory in Fifty-eighth street, near Madison avenue. Justice O'Brien declined to restrain the company from carrying on its business.

The application for the injunction was made by Maria Heidelbach and several other resi-dents in East Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, who alleged that, by an agreement entered into some years ago by the property owntered into some years ago by the property owners, the erection of a factory in the neighborhood was prohibited. The piaintiffs also alleged that the escape of cinders, ashes, soot, and coal dust from the defendant's factory injured their furniture.

Justice O'Brien says that the Steam Company has been in operation since 1886, and that upon the expiration of the lease on April 30 next it is the intention of the defendant company to remove from its present location. He denied the application to enjoin the company from doing husiness, but granted the order restraining it from creating so great a nuisance, and directed that efforts be made to abate the cinder, smoke, and dust nuisance.

Supped His Handcuff and Escaped.

For the last three weeks the Hoboken police have been using an ordinary express wagon, as the regular patrol wagon js undergoing repairs. Among the prisoners put in the wagon yesterday for transmission to the county jail was John Kelleher, who was arrested jail was John Kelicher, who was arrested on Saturday for stenling a boat. He was handcuffed to Richard Hartel.

Court Officer Aldonetta had charge of the prisoners. When the wagon reached Ferry and Newark streets Aldonetta turned around just in time to see Kelicher iumpout of the wagon and run across the tracks of the Delaware, Lackawanoa and Western Railroad. Aldonetta tumped off and pursued Kelicher, who dedged in among the cars and escaped. Investigation showed that Kelicher, who has a very small hand, had slipped his handcuff.

Local Business Troubles,

Deputy Sheriff Henning has received another attachment against the Mining and Dredging Power Company of 68 Bread street for $1,050 in favor of John R. Stuyvesant, who has been the Treasurer and general manager of the company. The company was incorporated four years ago under West Virginia laws with a capital stock of $1,000,000, and it is said that over $100,000 has been spent in expenses and constructing a dredging plant based on a patent pump for putting dirt ashore from dredges. A. S. Hatch was President of the company at to June 1, 1804, when he was succeeded by Edwin A. Stevens, the Hoboken millionaire. The at-tachments against the company aggregate $4,300, and it is said the Sheriff of Queens county has levied on the dredger belonging to the company.

Want a Receiver for Walhalla Hall, The executrix of the estate of Moses Finkeltone asked Judge Giegerich in the Court of Common Pieas yesterday to appoint a receiver for Walhalla Hall. Mrs. Johanna Finkelstone and the other heirs of the estate say that Finkelstone was a full partner with Jacob Fliegman eistone was a full partner with Jacob Fliegman in the ball, and that Fliegman has made no accounting. Counsel for Fliegman desied that access to the accounts had been refused to any one authorized to see them. He also said that Flickelstone did not put any money into the business, and that the liabilities of the concern exceed the assets by more than $2,000. Decision was reserved.

The withdrawal of $1,650,000 in gold from the Sub-Treasury to-day for shipment to Europe to-morrow, against sales of cable transfers at the highest figures yet recorded for them, caused some selling of stocks by Board-room traders and other small speculators. Their efforts to realize on their holdings demonstrated the narrowness of the market, and also that they and their associates in the present limited speculation furnish practically all the support the market enjoys. Certain operators who have a predilection for the short side of the market attempted promptly to take advantage of this situation, though upon a moderate scale. As a matter of fact, the chronic advocates of lower prices have suffered so severely the last few months that they appear to lack confidence in their own judgment and have not the courage to make vigorous attacks upon other people's property. On the other hand, stocks recover so readily whenever depressed for various reasons, that both actual and speculative holders are not easily disturbed. It is now generally conceded by those familiar with the crop situation that by those familiar with the crop situation that owing to unusually favorable natural circumstances a phenomenal yield of corn is practically assured. It is asserted that the bulk of the corn crop is fully two weeks abead of last year in its progress toward maturity, hence hances of damage by frost are, it is believed, reduced to a minimum. The divers uses that can be made of corn make it easily the most valuable crop paises in this country. Those who produce it among the most valuable crop cannot realize upon it as promptly as they can upon wheat and some other products, but in the long tensor to the contributes in a greater degree than wheat to general agricultural prosperity. For these reasons the shares of the Western trunk lines to which the great corn-producing areas are tributary are held with great tensority.

The change in keeping the books of the last named company, principally the closing of its construction account last fall, the introduction of unequivocal methods of keeping the accounts between the company and its auxiliary properties, together with the progress that is constantly being made toward refunding the indebtedness of the company at lower rates of interest, is steadily raising the securities of the company in public esteem. All of the anthracite coal stocks were strong, though the transactions in them were in most cases nearly nominal. The Street has acquired the idea that the anthracite coal situation can be improved almost by the turning of a hand when certain large interests in those properties are ready to make the move. Incidentally it is to be noted that the Susquehanna and Western stocks closed materially higher than on Saturday, a movement that was accompanied by reports that plans formed for financing the company when the change in management took place last spring have finally been executed. The only other stock that made decided progress toward higher prices was Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred.

The fact became public to-day that the plan of reorganization of the Erie Railway contentplates a closer union than at present between that company and the New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Company. It is proposed to fix the en-tire bonded indebtedness of the Erie system at $175,000,000, of which $35,000,000 are to be prior lien bonds and $140,000,000 general or consolidated mortgage bonds, with interest beginning at 3 per cent., and gradually advanced to 4 per cent. Although the plan has been virtually completed, it is still subject to modification, and there is excellent authority for the statement that it probably will not be officially promulgated for some time to come. The only other reorganization news to-day was that payments of the first installment on subscriptions for the new 4 2 cent. general mortgage bonds, to be issue under the Georgia Central plan of reorganization, now aggregate over $2,000,000.
It is interesting to note that the only stocks that sustained noteworthy net losses to-day were the few Industrials, that minor professional operators have been manipulating for some time past, namely, Chicago Gas, General Electric, Sugar Refining, and American Tobacco.
